Device Registration and Listing

Owners or operators of establishments that are involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for use in the U.S. are required to register annually with the FDA. This process is known as establishment registration (21 CFR Part 807 (http://www.accessdata.fda.gov/scripts/cdrh/cfdocs/cfcfr/CFRSearch.cfm?CFRPart=807)).

Congress has authorized the FDA to collect an annual establishment registration fee for device establishments. A detailed list of the types of device establishments that are required to register and pay the fee can be found at "Who Must Register, List and Pay the Fee (/medical-devices/device-registration-and-listing/who-must-register-list-and-pay-fee)."

For FY 2026, the FDA may grant a waiver of the annual establishment registration fee (excluding the initial registration) to certain small businesses certified through the Small Business Determination (SBD) Program who demonstrate paying the fee represents financial hardship as determined by the FDA. For current annual establishment registration fee and criteria for granting a waiver to certain small businesses certified through the SBD Program, please refer to the Medical Device User Fee Amendments (MDUFA): Fees (/industry/fda-user-fee-programs/medical-device-user-fee-amendments-mdufa-fees) webpage.

Generally, device establishments that are required to register with the FDA are also required to list the devices that are made there and the activities that are performed on those devices. If a device requires marketing authorization before being marketed in the U.S., then the owner/operator should also provide the FDA premarket submission number (e.g., 510(k), De Novo, PMA, PDP, HDE).

All registration and listing information must be submitted electronically (/medical-devices/device-registration-and-listing/access-electronic-registration), unless a waiver (/medical-devices/device-registration-and-listing/how-register-and-list) from submitting electronically has been granted.

Registration and listing provides the FDA with the location of medical device establishments and the devices manufactured at those establishments. Knowing where devices are made increases the nation's ability to prepare for and respond to public health emergencies.
